

The Blackstock Press Collection

Professor of Art and IWU alumnus (Class of 1950) Fred Brian founded the Blackstock Press in 1969. Each book was crafted in the tradition of fine printing using handset type and various illustration techniques, and in the early days of the Press, century-old a Washington hand press. The Press was first located in the basement of Blackstock Hall and later moved to the School of Art.

All of the works listed here are individually cataloged and held in IWU's Special Collections. The information below includes any know affiliations the authors, illustrators and/or and printers have with IWU. If you have additional information, contact archives@iwu.edu or 309-556-1535.
